Dedication

There have been in all ages, in all civilizations, and in all cultures men who, in life, walk taller than those who walk beside them. In the microcosm of North Carolina College there is such a man. A man who continues to grow in "wisdom and stature" to us, who has carried our problems on his shoulders, and who has given us a gift we can never equal, "faith in ourselves." He has been patient and understanding when we cry of dissatisfaction. He knows how to talk with us with knowledge of our wants and needs because he knows us, the students! We, the students of North Carolina College, dedicate the 1965 edition of the 'Eagle' to you, Dr. Marion D. Thorpe, Dean of Students, with admiration and love.

This —

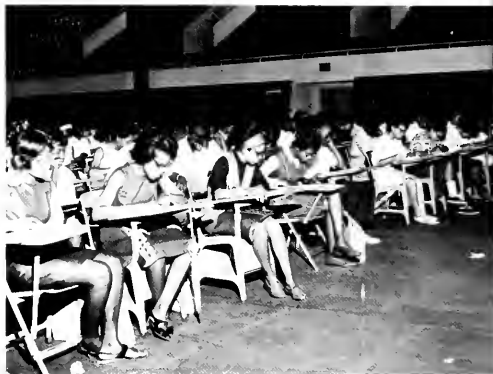

is NCC

What confusion! What confusion!
Placement exams, SAT's, Psychological tests
Extreme confusion!

There's registration — long long lines
Filling cards, paying bills, taking courses
Nothing but confusion!

Socializing — romancing the smoke and the noise
The smoke glides along
The noise increases crescendo
Confusion!

Life seems to be one of continuous lines
Lines for the bookstore, dining hall, canteen
But from lines of confusion
We reach our goal — Learning.

The pleasures of life are always remembered
Cheering our teams is especially pleasurable.

Christmas at home --
With all the family
To tell the news
That we are honor students --

N.C.C. -- productive of the most pleasing results

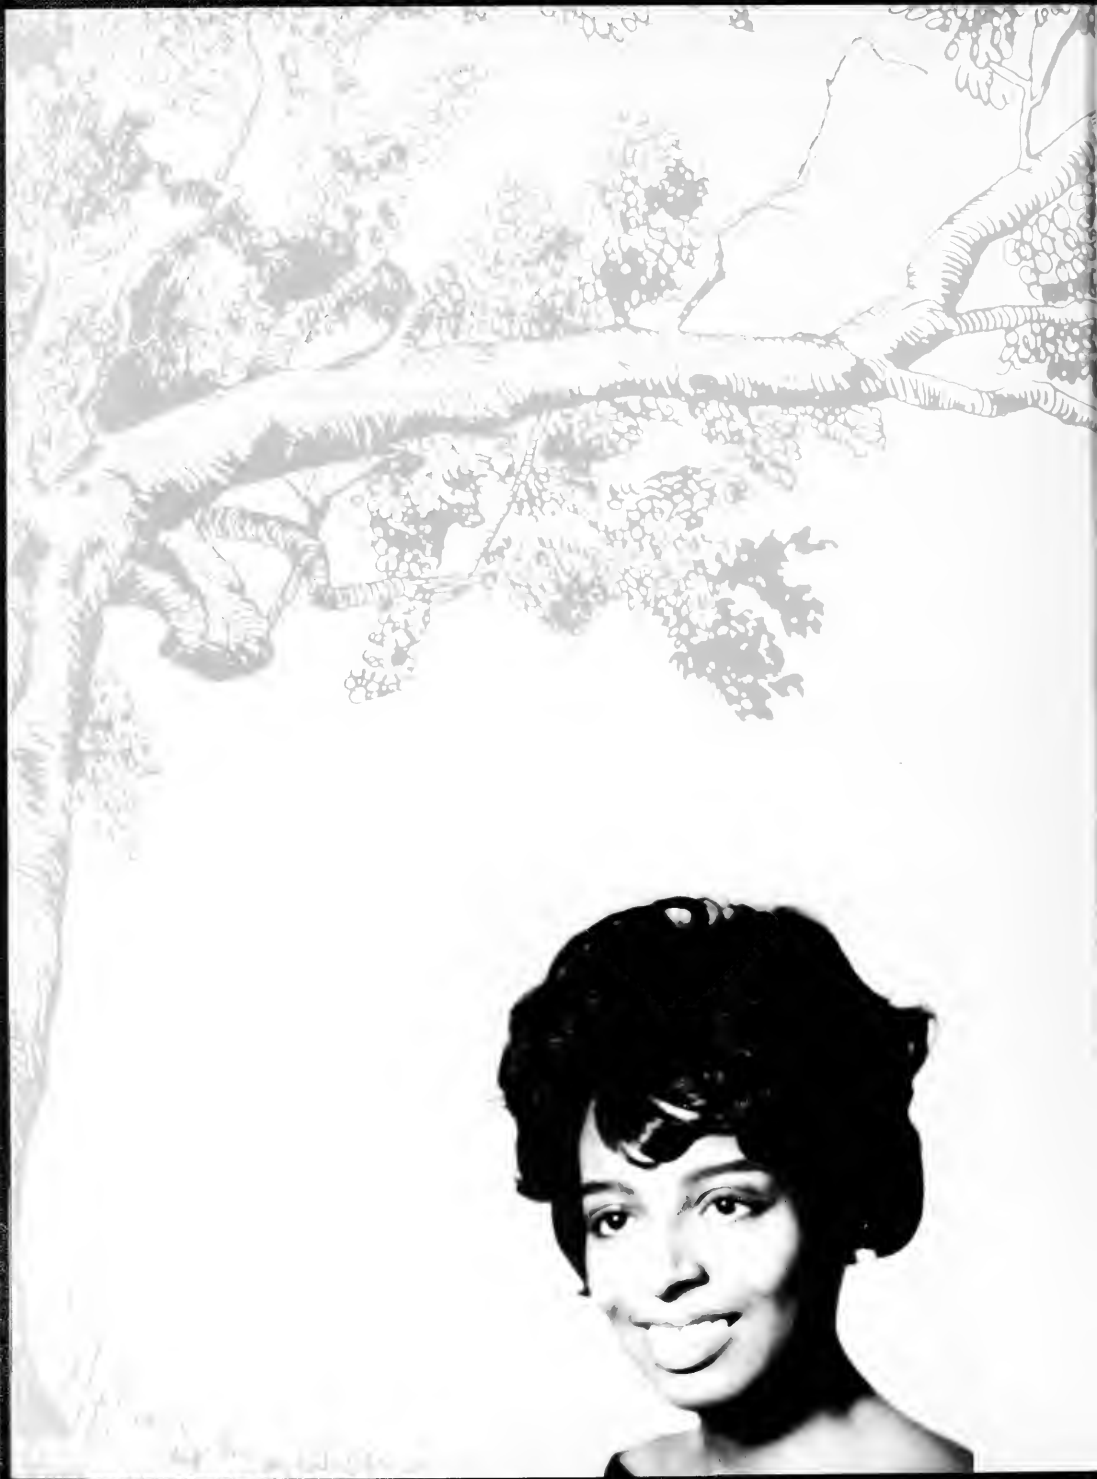

An evening of entertainment at N.C.C.
Provides one with comedians,
Jazz concertists, popular musicians
Classical singers and dramatists.
An evening of entertainment —
Curtains!

IN MEMORIAM

Students from N.C.C.

That's why there is much concern

When two of them depart.

Their aspirations and contributions that were embedded in the school still live.

Therefore, as you, Brenda, and you, Audrey,
are gone, NORTH CAROLINA COLLEGE pays TRIBUTE.

The key to a successful future
Is within our reach.
The key is personified in
Our founder, in students seeking knowledge,

In our leaders –
The key is manifested in visitors on campus
Who have advice and information to offer
The key is N.C.C.
We can possess it!

It is said that he who loves - understands
Love and understanding are always felt when they are present
They are manifested through the advice of the counselors.
They are present through the aid of instructors and students -
The recipient of love and understanding is affected.
And the giver is rewarded by smiles, by kisses, and by the glow of happiness in many eyes.
Through love was N.C.C. founded -
N.C.C. is the product of love.

Frank Ballance exhibits the spirit of Valentine Day as he passes out candy to three of the girls in his heart

Dr. Willa B. Player, Bennett College, Dr. Benjamin Mays, Morehouse College, Dr. Stephen Wright, Fisk University, Dr. Samuel P. Massie, N.C. College, Dr. Samuel Nabrit, Texas Southern University, and Dr. Jerome Holland, Hampton Institute, enjoy a moment of fun during a meeting of college and university presidents.

Smiles come out even in a bitter snow ball fight.

The nostalgic ring of N.C.C.'s bell
 Tolls the awakening, the expectancy
 Homecoming — when the leaves turn their familiar rustic color
 Homecoming — when the graduates return to admire Alma
 Mater and the fighting Eagles.
 As traditional as school's opening in September
 Is the sight of knowledgeable rail sitters.
 And as traditional as Freshmen's beanies
 Are the lovers in the Senior Bowl.

"THE BELL"

The shorthand class displays its awards as it once again placed 3rd in the 51st International OGA shorthand contest

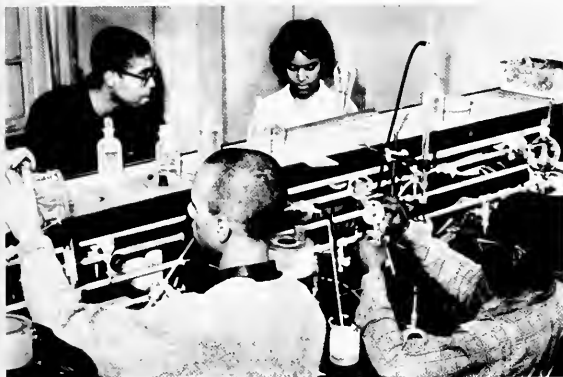

The nightly pinochle game provides a wonderful excuse for not doing home work.

Jimmy Smith plays "Goldfingers" as the love talk stops.

Those unknowns will never be known.

Edwin Roberts, our track hero, displays his collection of medals from Olympic Games in Tokyo.

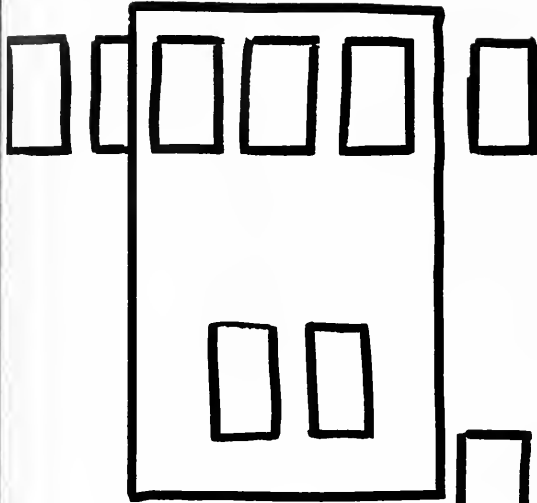

As the year rushes by and as man increases his knowledge and experiences —
So does N.C.C. increase its scope academically and physically.
No place should ever stand still and thus it is true with the Maroon and Gray — It grows.

SCHOOL OF LIBRARY SCIENCE

Miss Evelyn B. Pope
Dean of the School of Library Science

Today as never before the profession of librarianship is calling for people who are prepared to work in all kinds of libraries with all of the various media of communication. May your work here in this institution be only the beginning of your training. Strive to prepare yourselves in general education and professional education so that you can compete with the best prepared persons in the field of librarianship.

When you leave these buildings and beautiful grounds, may you carry with you the will and determination to render service to children, young people, and adults in their search for knowledge for themselves, and for the improvement of humanity. To achieve the greatest amount of happiness in your chosen profession, you must keep up with all of the latest information in books, periodicals, and other medias so that you can pass this on to others who seek your help. Remember that "The librarian's mind must have the scope of the encyclopedia, and the currency of the morning newspaper."

The faculty and the staff of the School of Library Science join me in wishing for you success in your career.

Sincerely yours,

Evelyn B. Pope,
Dean

Mrs. Ann Jenkins, Mrs. Dorothy Campbell, and Miss Evelyn Pope.

Now where can that periodical be!

Those undergraduates would come in when I have other work to do.

Wrong volume but it just might help.

ORGANIZATIONS

YOUTH'S BILL OF RIGHTS

1. Stand by us, not over us. Give us the feeling that we are not alone in the world, that we can always count on you when we are in trouble.
2. Make us feel that we are loved and wanted. We want to love you, not as a duty but because you love us.
3. Train us by being affectionately firm. You really will achieve more with us through patient teaching than punishment or preaching. Say "no" when you feel you have to, but explain your rules, don't merely impose them.
4. Bring us up so that we will not always need you. Teach us how to take on responsibility and become independent of you. We will learn this faster and better if you will let us question you, your ideals and standards.
5. Don't act shocked when we do things we shouldn't. It is going to take us time to learn how to grow into life properly.
6. Try to be as consistent as possible. If you are mixed up about what you want from us, why shouldn't we be mixed up too in what we give you?
7. Don't try to make us feel inferior. We doubt ourselves enough without you confirming it. Predicting failure for us won't help us succeed.
8. Say "nice work" when we do something really well. Don't hold back the praise when we deserve it. That's the way to spur us on.

Taken from the November issue of, "The Journal of Religious Education of The African Methodist Episcopal Church."

My Fellow Students,

Your heritage as a student is to seek knowledge. Your heritage as a human being under God is to seek truth. And your heritage as a citizen is service. It is my hope that North Carolina College helps you to understand these things. And it is my further hope that the student government also calls you to these high ideals.

The old always gives way to the new but the change need not always be for the better. It is up to us to make it so. The same advice applies to our college. Resolve now to make the world a better place through personal responsibility and devotion to truth. Life is a ward in our charge and the results are our own doings.

As I take my leave, I have the high hope for you that Jefferson had for his young nation — that given to truth you will make the right decision.

Thank you for allowing me to serve as the President of the student body.

Student Welfare Committee

My fellow Students,

With prudence in our dealings, determination in our efforts and dedication to our tasks we must strive for an improved North Carolina College. Only then can we, in truth, exemplify the spirit that has long characterized the Eagle. Only then can we feel the greatest pride for the Maroon and the Gray. Only then will we reap maximum benefit from our stay here. Let us now go forth to set a new height in student achievement.
